LUCA STEPS TO PREPARE

READ information on the 2030 LUCA Webpage	Check out what's new for 2030 LUCA and review available resources.
PREPARE an Address List	Many governments maintain address lists. If not, consider starting. Publicly share parcel data and provide address information to the national address database (NAD).
REVIEW Census Current Address Count Listing Files	The census address counts are updated twice a year. See the guide to comparing address counts by block.
PLAN How to Participate in LUCA With a Data-Driven, Coverage-Bases Approach	Consider if census address counts meet expectations, if community-based organizations could identify any gaps, or if additional resources are needed or are available to help others.
